Why Newland?

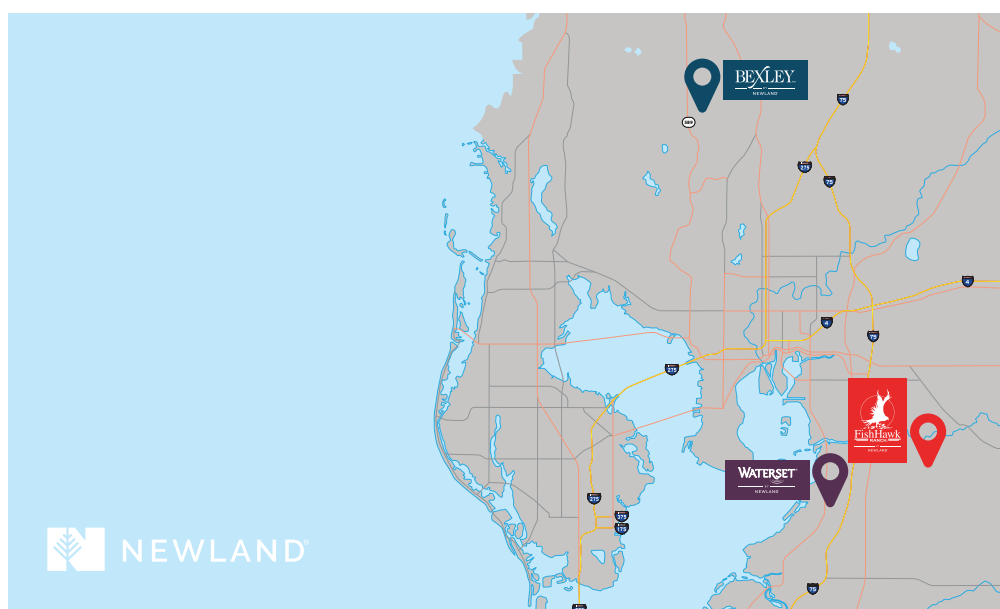

How people live is forever changing and evolving, and making the big decision to purchase a new home is more complex than ever. For five decades, Newland has been creating communities all across the country that have become home to hundreds of thousands of families. With offices in many U.S. cities, Newland has been successful thanks to a carefully crafted portfolio of communities with geographic diversity, and a range of homes and amenities for all different types of families living life in ways that matter most to them.

Newland in Tampa

“Home” means something different to a young couple just starting out, to a family with teenagers, to a couple caring for aging parents, or to an empty nester beginning a new chapter. It is this kind of diversity that makes our communities so vibrant — and has helped to make Newland the largest private developer of planned residential and urban mixed-use communities in the United States.

Bexley™ is proud to be part of an esteemed family of Newland communities in Tampa, which includes FishHawk Ranch™ and Waterset®.

Community Development District

When you live in Bexley you live in a community built with careful planning, infrastructure, and amenities made possible in part by the Community Development District (CDD). The Bexley CDD was created through Pasco County to plan, construct, and operate many of the systems and structures of the community and to maintain them throughout the many years you will call Bexley home.

What are the benefits of living in a CDD Community? You can immediately enjoy all the things that make a community desirable instead of waiting for a developer to build them.

How is the Bexley CDD organized and what do they do? Bexley CDD is run by a board that's elected by registered voters within the district. Each is responsible for setting and managing budgets in the district and selecting consultants and contractors to maintain the facilities within the district.

How is the Bexley CDD funded? The CDD special assessments for operations, maintenance, and bond debt repayment are applied annually to property real estate taxes for each lot or home in the district. They may be administered by the property owner's mortgage company and be paid monthly into an escrow account or paid annually with the property tax bill.

Homeowners Association

The Homeowners Association (HOA) enforces the architectural and landscaping standards for residents, ensuring there is a consistency of property aesthetics. As a deed-restricted community, the HOA provides a Design Review Committee that approves resident requests for modifications to their homes and/or properties. The HOA also determines additional parameters to enhance the community, including enforcement activities, legal information, and insurance provisions.

Current Proposed Annual Assessments:

HOA Annual Assessment: $525/year

*CDD Annual Assessments (2019-20 fiscal year): $1,825-$2,715/year
